Environmental Department hosted its 10th annual Tire Collection Event

The Eastern Shawnee Tribe's Environmental Department hosted its 10th annual Tire Collection Event at Four Feathers Recycling on May 18 and 19. The tires are collected as a part of a cleanup effort to keep tires out of the water and off the land. The state of Oklahoma provides a hauling service to take the tires to a shredding facility where the tires can be shredded and reused in asphalt and turf surfaces for playgrounds and athletic fields. We are still waiting on the final count but over 4,000 tires were collected during our two-day event.

The Chief's Report . . .

Chief Glenna J. Wallace

Dear Fellow Tribal Citizens,

Hatito or hello and let's begin this letter with some extremely positive news regarding Oklahoma tribes in Ottawa County. Just recently the Oklahoma Criminal Court of Appeals upheld district court rulings affirming that three tribal nations in Ottawa County, Oklahoma had their reservations deemed "never disestablished", meaning the Court recognizes the reservation status of the Ottawa, Miami and Peoria tribes. They join the Quapaw Tribe, now making four of the nine tribes in Ottawa County having their legal reservation status declared.

Since the 2020 ruling of the McGirt vs. Oklahoma stating Oklahoma Indian Reservations had never been disestablished, there has been a flurry of legal questions/actions regarding status of reservations in Oklahoma. Prior to the 2020 McGirt ruling, it was always generally assumed that Oklahoma had no reservations as pointed out by Eastern Shawnee tribal citizen Robert Miller, Indian law professor at the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law, Arizona State University with the exception of the Osage Nation who always referred to their land as reservation land. Ironically, the Osage Nation is the only tribe/nation in Oklahoma thus far where courts have ruled their lands are not reservation lands.

Quoting the May 16, 2023 Miami News-Record, "the Oklahoma Criminal Court of Appeals (OCCA) in State v. Brester announced...the Ottawa Tribe of Oklahoma Reservation, established in an 1867 Treaty, has never been disestablished and continues to be Indian Country. The Miami Tribe of Oklahoma also is included in the ruling since it shares its reservation with the Peoria tribe... The decision after being at the appellate level for nearly a year and a half" means the U.S. Attorney can begin to prosecute major crimes committed in Ottawa County tribes have referred to District Court in Tulsa stated Miami Tribe Chief Doug Lankford.

This ruling came as a result of the Miami, Ottawa, Eastern Shawnee, and Seneca Cayuga filing a lawsuit in federal court requesting "lands established by treaty had never been disestablished and to enjoin the State of Oklahoma from attempting to assert criminal jurisdiction over Indians for conduct in Indian country." We, The Eastern Shawnee Tribe, have a separate lawsuit filed known as Hull vs. Oklahoma also requesting the OCCA determine our lands have never been disestablished and are, indeed, reservation lands. The 1867 Treaty filed after the conclusion of the Civil War brought several tribes down from Kansas to Ottawa County, including the Ottawa, Miami, Peoria and Wyandotte. That same 1867 Treaty officially separated the Mixed Band of Senecas and Shawnees renaming the two tribes who had been removed to Indian Territory from Ohio into the Seneca Cayuga and Eastern Shawnee Tribe. Let's hope we don't have to wait a year and a half before that ruling occurs. Congratulations to the Ottawa, Miami and Peoria tribes!

It was the best one ever! I am talking about our annual Elders Dinner which we have every year the last Friday in April, this year April 26th. Whitney Morgan knew that former and beloved AOA Director Linda Hill always went

Treasurer Report

Submitted by Justin Barrett, Business Committee Treasurer

FINANCIAL

As of 3/31/23 Tribal Administration has spent 38% of the approved budget. Since April starts the 3rd Quarter of the fiscal year, we should be around 50%. We have approved four (4) budget modifications.

MOD 01 – Capital Outlay Vehicles

$600,000

MOD 02 – Capital Outlay Carryover

$978,350

MOD 03 – HIP Carryover

$78,870

MOD 04 – Raw Food Expenses

$100,000

HOUSING AUTHORITY

Over the past several months the Eastern Shawnee Tribal Housing Authority has been a topic during the Business Committee meetings. There is a rumor that we have given the Housing Authority $10 million of General Fund money which is not a true statement. Here is the breakdown of the funds that the Housing Authority has received including grant funding since October 2020 for their housing projects.

Infrastructure Project:

HUD Funding $759,000

ESTO Match (Required) $200,000

ESTO Land Match In-Kind $60,000

Tribal Funds $294,823.43

Total Funding $1,313,823.43

Tribal funds were used in the infrastructure project due to expenses being higher than budgeted due to COVID.

Construction of Houses:

In 2020 the Housing Authority applied for the HUD ICDBG grant. This grant was not awarded. In 2021 the Tribe applied for the ICDBG grant for a museum which means the Housing Authority was not able to apply. The Tribe's grant application was not funded in 2021. In 2022 the Tribe applied for the ICDBG grant for an addition to the Wellness Center which means the Housing Authority was not able to apply. The Business Committee has not received notification on if this grant application was funded or not. Both years the Housing Authority applied for HUD Indian Housing Block Grant (IHBG) which is extremely competitive and in 2021 the grant was not funded.

Because the infrastructure was completed the Business Committee made the decision to fund the construction of the houses instead of waiting on a grant to be awarded so infrastructure was not sitting there not being used.

The Business Committee appropriated $4,200,000 of ARPA (grant) funds to the Housing Authority. This money was for the construction of homes, to assist with payroll costs, a proposed playground, and allowed the Housing Authority to hire civil engineers, architects, and other consultants for the project.

Oliver Property:

The current IHBG grant application submitted is to develop the Oliver property with 2, 3, and 4 bedroom houses. There is $2,000,000 committed in the Tribe's reserves as a cash match for this project.

Approval Workflow:

When a payment needs to be made the payment is requisitioned by Housing Authority staff. It is then approved by three (3) members of the Housing Authority Board of Commissioners. If the expense is over $5,000 it is approved by the Chief and if it is over $25,000 it is approved by the Business Committee. All checks are processed through accounting and come on the weekly check run with all other expenses.

Summary of Funding

Total Grant Funds $4,959,999.00

Total Tribal Funds $554,823.43

Total all Funding $5,513,823.43

Committed Funds $2,000,000.00

CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS

We are currently working with BRP Architects for the design of the new government building to be located on the 10C Complex. We are currently waiting on the CMAR to develop a final budget. We have set aside $10,000,000 for this project. Once we get a final budget from the CMAR, we will have a solid number to finalize a construction budget.

If you happen to drive by the old Travel Center, you will notice that the fuel station islands have been removed. We are converting the Travel Center into office space. We are using ARPA funds to complete this project.

The splash pad at the Early Childhood Learning is scheduled for a soft opening early June. This project was funded by CCDF funding originally. In the 2nd Quarter the Business Committee approved $1,425,880 to be reallocated from ARPA funds to cover the remaining balance of this project.

In April the Business Committee reallocated $3,000,000 that was set aside for infrastructure on the Elbert property for proposed economic development. That money was reprogrammed to expand the wastewater treatment plant on the 10C complex due to being over capacity. The bid came in higher than $3,000,000 so more money will need to be moved from ARPA or a budget mod will need to be done to complete the project.

Chief Glenna J. Wallace, Receives Honorary Doctorate

Submitted by Jennifer Lankford

Chief Glenna J. Wallace joined Carlow University's Commencement celebration as an honorary degree recipient. She is the first female chief of the Eastern Shawnee Tribe of Oklahoma in Ottawa County, Oklahoma, one of three federally recognized Shawnee tribes. She was awarded an Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters in recognition of her commitment to education, historical preservation, rebirth of cultural awareness, and economic security. For nearly 40 years, Chief Wallace served in numerous roles at Crowder College, Neosho, Mo., including as interim academic dean. Her leadership of the Eastern Shawnee tribe's uphill battle to rediscover their culture resonates with Carlow's deep commitment to diversity and respect for all cultures.

As you know, the Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters (LHD) is one of the highest, and most prestigious awards that a university can bestow. At Carlow, we award this honor only to individuals whose achievements reflect the values and mission of our university, possess a distinguished record of service to society, and exemplary integrity and personal character.

Welcome To Our New Tribal Administrators

Kristi Laughlin

James Sullivan

Although they are not new employees to the Eastern Shawnee Tribe of Oklahoma, we are happy to announce our two new Tribal Administrators. Both outstanding individuals have been serving the members of the tribe for more than nine years and are excited to take on their new roles.

Kristi Laughlin, Tribal Administrator and Director of EPA/Land Management

Kristi has worked in the department of EPA and Land Management since she began her employment with the tribe. She stays very busy keeping things on track with Four Feathers Recycling, Growing Thyme and property rentals. Additionally, she is responsible for land trust services, water and waste water utilities, and very importantly the protection of natural resources. As a tribal administrator she will oversee tribal grants and all benefits for tribal employees. Her goal as an administrator is to see the tribe secure and successfully implement grants to provide the appropriate services for its members and to ensure that employees are receiving the best benefits available.

Growing up, Kristi was always intrigued with characteristics of diseases and wanted to study them. Once she began her post-secondary education, she realized that a path in Environmental Health was more practical and would still allow her to follow her lifelong interest. As a college extern, Kristi worked in the environmental division of Indian Health Services at Tucson, Arizona and Fort Berthold at Newtown, North Dakota, where she attended her first pow wow. This experience opened the door to cultural practices, respect for native people and their stories, as well as tribal histories. Since then, she welcomes every opportunity she is given to learn more. Once she graduated with her bachelor's degree in environmental health from Missouri Southern State University in 2005, she saw the opportunity to work for the Eastern Shawnee Tribe and has never looked back.

Kristi is very family oriented and spends as much time as possible with her parents and older brother. She enjoys spending time in nature, especially going out west and visiting the mountains. She does admit that coming home to her quiet little home with her dog, cat each day is her way to replenish her soul so she can continue serving the Eastern Shawnee people.

James Sullivan, Tribal Administrator and Human Resources Director

James is a member of the Eastern Shawnee Tribe of Oklahoma, a husband to Amber Sullivan for 3 years, and in July they will become a first-time parents to a precious baby girl. He played football in college, loves to lift weights, and enjoys travelling to New Orleans with his wife Amber to visit with friends. However, he genuinely appreciates time spent relaxing at home on the weekends with his family and friends.

If you utilized the Eastern Shawnee Wellness Center in the past or even now, there is a good chance you have met James. As a Missouri Southern State University student studying kinesiology, he was given the opportunity to complete his internship working at the tribe's wellness center in 2014. Once he graduated with his bachelor's degree in kinesiology with a minor in business, he decided he was enjoying his experiences with people at the wellness center so much he decided he would like to stay on. James worked part time, then moved to full time then on to become the assistant director.

James grew up knowing he had Eastern Shawnee and Miami bloodlines. However, living a distance away from the tribes, his only involvement was to participate in occasional camp experiences. As an adult, he is now able to be more involved in the capacity of serving the tribal community. James knows that without the Eastern Shawnee members there would be no tribe, which is why his role as director of human resources is important to him. His expectation is for the employees of the tribe to perform at their best so they can provide the best services to those members. He has performed many duties during his employment with the Eastern Shawnee tribe from working on the MSPI (Meth/Suicide/Prevention/Initiative) to the Community Health Representative, E-

Covid 19 Project Director to working on multiple grant projects. His primary focus as a tribal administrator is to make sure the needs of the members are being met with adequate services and for an improvement of communication processes so everyone is kept abreast of happenings, services, changes as well as achievements of the tribe.

If you happen to be over by the Chief Charles Enyart Building, stop by and say hello to Kristi and James! You can get ahold of Kristi by calling (918) 238-5151 ext. 1041 or email: kristi.laughlin@estoo.net and James by calling (918) 238-5151 ext. 1023 or email: james.sullivan@estoo.net.

Welcome To The New Director of Communications

Annette Clark

My name is Annette Clark, and I am the new Director of Communications. I am very excited to serve the people of the Eastern Shawnee Tribe of Oklahoma in this role. I am a Missouri girl except for a fifteen-year hiatus spent in Florida. However, with age and maturity, family and a slower pace of life called me back home ten years ago. Yes, Florida is beautiful, living 20 minutes from several major beaches amazing, the various cultures and opportunities were so valuable, but there is something about living in a smaller town where you have lifelong connections and people who know more stories about your relatives than you do.

I spent my early years of youth in Asbury, earned my high school diploma from Crocker High School, and then graduated from Missouri Southern State College (yes, it was still a college when I was attending) with a bachelor's degree in Elementary Education and Special Education. I spent 24 years teaching, first at Neosho Jr./Sr. High, next at a center for severely emotionally disturbed students and then an elementary school in Florida and wrapped up the last six years of my career at Carl Junction High School. I finally left the classroom and spent three amazing years working for my husband's tribe, Modoc Nation, as their Director of Education, Culture, Communication and Tribal Registrar. It was this role that helped me truly discover that serving the tribal community is where my heart is. I am a firm believer that things happen for a reason and when you have faith, life will place you where you should be, and I am thrilled to now wear only one hat here for the Eastern Shawnee Tribe in this new position.

In my role as Director of Communication, the goal is to oversee the flow of communication and information between the Eastern Shawnee Tribe of Oklahoma and the public. There are so many things the tribe does that not only benefit its members and surrounding communities, but you have a story that should be shared. As an educator, it is natural for me to want help people learn, and I hope to teach as many people as possible about YOUR story, past and present.

I am honored to have this opportunity and can't wait to meet you and serve you! I am located at the BlueJacket Building, so if you are over this way, stop in and say Hatito! You can also reach me at: phone number (918) 238-51541 extension 1810 or email annette.clark@estoo.net.

Program Update:

Hello all –

We hope this monthly update finds you well and enjoying the warmer weather of summer. We are in the process of starting a few projects for our program; getting ready to open a community center/on site advocate office next to our emergency temporary safe homes, putting the finishing touches on a grant that will focus on the advocacy needs of child victims of crime, and starting our mobile advocacy program. Stay tuned for more news.

June is Pride month – which means we take time to focus on the impacts of domestic violence on the LGBTQ community.

Domestic Violence and the LGBTQ Community

By National Coalition Against Domestic Violence

<https://ncadv.org/blog/posts/domestic-violence-and-the-lgbtq-community>

Because the majority of the domestic violence awareness movement has focused on heterosexual relationships, members of the LGBTQ community have been largely left out of the movement. However, recent research shows that LGBTQ members fall victim to domestic violence at equal or even higher rates compared to their heterosexual counterparts.

Statistics about Domestic Violence and the LGBTQ Community

1. 43.8% of lesbian women and 61.1% of bisexual women have experienced rape, physical violence, and/or stalking by an intimate partner at some point in their lifetime, as opposed to 35% of heterosexual women.
2. 26% of gay men and 37.3% of bisexual men have experienced rape, physical violence, and/or stalking by an intimate partner in their lifetime, in comparison to 29% of heterosexual men.
3. In a study of male same sex relationships, only 26% of men called the police for assistance after experiencing near-lethal violence.
4. In 2012, fewer than 5% of LGBTQ survivors of intimate partner violence sought orders of protection.
5. Transgender victims are more likely to experience intimate partner violence in public, compared to those who do not identify as transgender.

Unique Elements of Abuse in LGBTQ Community

There are several aspects of intimate partner violence which can be unique to the LGBTQ community. “Outing” or threatening to reveal one partner’s sexual orientation/gender identity may be used as a tool of abuse in violent relationships and may also be a barrier which reduces the likelihood of help-seeking for the abuse. Prior experiences of physical or psychological trauma, such as bullying and hate crime, may make LGBTQ victims of domestic violence less likely to see help.

Barriers to Seeking Services/Receiving Assistance

Several barriers exist to addressing LGBTQ intimate partner violence. These include:

- Societal beliefs that domestic violence does not occur in LGBTQ relationships
- Potential homophobia from staff of service providers, or from non-LGBTQ domestic violence victims they may come into contact with
- Lack of appropriate training regarding LGBTQ domestic violence for service providers
- A fear that airing the problems among the LGBTQ population will take away from progress toward equality or fuel anti-LGBTQ bias
- Domestic violence shelters are typically female only, and transgender individuals may not be allowed entrance due to their gender/genital/legal status.
- The dangers associated with “outing” oneself and risking rejection from family, friends, and society
- The lack of, or survivors being unaware of, LGBTQ-friendly assistance resources
- Low levels of confidence in the effectiveness of the legal system for LGBTQ people

Why It Matters

Domestic violence is not limited to heterosexual relationships and can affect individuals of all sexual orientations and genders. Within the LGBTQ community, intimate partner violence occurs at a rate equal to or even higher than that of the heterosexual community. LGBTQ individuals may experience unique forms of intimate partner violence as well as distinctive barriers to seeking help due to fear of discrimination or bias.

Although the response to LGBTQ victims of domestic violence is gradually improving, the LGBTQ community if often met with ineffective and victimizing legal responses. Forty-five percent of victims do not report the violence they experience to police because they believe it will not help them. Furthermore, members of the LGBTQ community may be denied assistance and domestic violence services as a result of homophobia, transphobia, and biphobia.

If you or someone you love is an LGBTQ victim of abuse, please contact HAVEN and talk with one of our advocates about how we can help and what services Haven can provide.

Trauma

By Brandy-Lea McCombs, Ph.D., Assistant Professor, Curriculum & Instruction Northeastern State University

Submitted with permission by Ben Bingham, Native Connections Project Director

“Children are resilient.” This phrase seems to be the go-to when a child has experienced chaos or trauma. Unfortunately, it could be no farther from the truth. Children will experience chaos in their life. Chaos comes from simply a disruption in school from being sick with the flu. Chaos will also come with a tad bit more complexity like starting a new school. Sadly, some children will walk through traumatic experiences like neglect, abuse or the absence of a parent. Chaos will occur in a child’s life and attempt to take root.

The question for the primary caregiver of that child: how do I buffer the effects of this chaotic event? What steps can I take to cushion the blow from this trauma?

Jane Stevens, founder and publisher of PACEs Connection began asking the questions as to the connections between adverse childhood experiences and the child’s brain development and even overall health. PACEs or Positive and Adverse Childhood Experiences were formulated, after much research and discussions with various practitioners from diverse fields, PACEs were discovered: trauma-informed and resilience building practices (See Table

1). These practices and intentionality’s from parents and caregivers acted as buffers to children who had experienced challenging traumatic events.

Basically, the researchers and practitioners noticed that PACEs had the power to counteract or lessen the effects of the trauma the child experienced. These actions brought the children order, predictability, and peace. The very opposite of chaos. The very opposite of trauma.

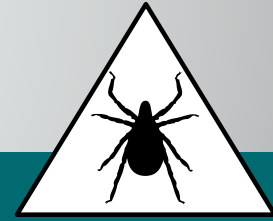

Looking at the PACEs, a parallel can be made. Each of the buffers act as an anchor for the child. During this chaos, the child is experiencing a time of turmoil out at sea with no sight of land or end. While the child is enduring the storm, changes to brain development are occurring. But wait! Parents who provide consistent routines and clear expectations or the unconditional love act as buffers to anchor the child, keeping the child grounded or steady until the time of turmoil comes to an end. When a child knows they are surrounded by a supportive family, a best friend and a group of peers, the child’s brain can have the endurance to persevere through the storm.

I want to encourage you to take a moment and reflect. Does your child have these PACEs in place? What can you do to help ensure these positive experiences exist in your child’s life? Furthermore, can you be the safe adult for another child? As we can attest, chaos and trauma will arrive unannounced and without warning. However, we can be prepared. And we can prepare our children.

- Positive parenting practices and predictable routines & rules
- The child feels like a family member stood by them during difficult time
- Unconditional love from a parent
- Having a best friend
- Being part of a social group (school clubs, sports teams, extra-curricular activities)
- Volunteering in the community
- Having the support of an adult outside the home
- Living in a home that is clean & safe with enough food
- Attending a school or has access to educational opportunities
- Has an engaging hobby, artistic or intellectual outlet

Understanding Tick Bites and Lyme Disease

How to prevent tick bites

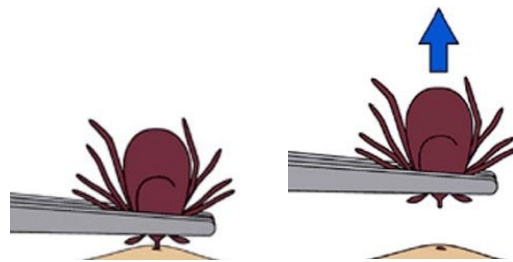

Ticks can spread disease, including Lyme disease.

Protect yourself:

- Use Environmental Protection Agency (EPA)-registered insect repellents containing DEET, picaridin, IR3535, oil of lemon eucalyptus, para-menthane-diol, or 2-undecanone. Always follow product instructions.
- Wear clothing treated with permethrin.
- Shower as soon as possible after spending time outdoors.
- Check for ticks daily. Ticks can hide under the armpits, behind the knees, in the hair, and in the groin.
- Tumble clothes in a dryer on high heat for 10 minutes to kill ticks on dry clothing after you come indoors. If the clothes are damp, additional time may be needed.

How to remove a tick

1. Use fine-tipped tweezers to grasp the tick as close to the skin's surface as possible.
2. Pull upward with steady, even pressure to remove the tick. Avoid twisting or jerking.
3. Clean the bite area and your hands with rubbing alcohol or soap and water.

Notes:

- Remove the tick as soon as possible to reduce your chances of getting an infection from the tick bite.
- Don't use nail polish, petroleum jelly, or a hot match to make the tick detach.
- If tick mouthparts remain in the skin, leave them alone. In most cases, they will fall out in a few days.

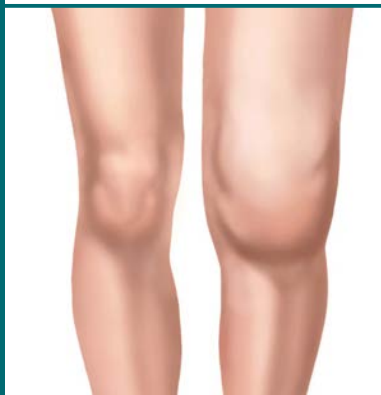

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Facial paralysis.

Bull's eye rash on the back.

Arthritic knee.

When to see your healthcare provider

If you develop a rash, fever, exhaustion, or joint and muscle aches within several weeks of removing a tick or spending time in tick habitat, see your healthcare provider. Be sure to mention your recent tick bite and when it happened, or that you've spent time in places where ticks may live.

If left untreated, Lyme disease can affect the joints, heart, or nervous system.

Antibiotics treat Lyme disease

People treated with antibiotics in the early stages of Lyme disease usually recover rapidly and completely. The antibiotics most commonly used to treat Lyme disease include: doxycycline, amoxicillin, or cefuroxime axetil.

Looking ahead to recovery

Rest and take antibiotics as prescribed. Recovery may take several weeks or longer.

Some people wonder if there is a test to confirm that they are cured, but there is no such test. Retesting for Lyme disease is not recommended because blood tests might be positive for months or years after you have been treated. A positive test doesn't mean you are still infected. It simply means that your immune system remembers your infection.

You can get Lyme disease again if you are bitten by another infected tick, so protect yourself from tick bites.

Breath-Holding Spells

What Is a Breath-Holding Spell?

A breath holding spell is when a child holds their breath, usually after being angry, frustrated, startled, or in pain. Sometimes the breath holding leads to the child passing out.

It can be frightening to watch a breath-holding spell, but they aren't harmful and usually last less than a minute. Kids outgrow the spells without any treatment.

What Are the Types of Breath-Holding Spells?

There are two types of breath-holding spells:

- If the child's face turns blue, it's called a cyanotic breath-holding spell. Usually the child cries very hard and then has the spell. Cyanotic breath-holding spells are usually caused by anger or frustration.
- If the child's face turns white, it's called a pallid breath-holding spell. The child may cry a little bit or not at all before having the spell. Pallid breath-holding spells are usually caused by the child being startled or in pain.

Both types of spells can make kids pass out for up to a minute. In the most extreme cases, kids might have seizures. Having a seizure does not cause any long-term harm or put a child at risk for a seizure disorder.

Breath-holding spells happen in healthy children from 6 months to 6 years old. They're most common when kids are 6–18 months old, and tend to run in families.

What Causes Breath Holding Spells?

Children do not have breath-holding spells on purpose. They can't control when they happen.

Doctors don't know the exact cause of breath-holding spells. Sometimes, iron-deficiency anemia might cause them. Treating the anemia may help reduce the number of spells.

What Should I Do if My Child Has a Breath-Holding Spell?

If this is your child's first breath-holding spell, get medical care. Although the spells aren't harmful, it's good to get your child checked out.

If your child has a breath-holding spell:

- Lay your child in the crib or on the floor.
- Keep your child away from anything hard or sharp.
- Stay with your child.

If your child passes out:

- Try to stay calm and reassure yourself that your child is safe.
- Check your child's mouth for food or any object that could cause choking.

- Call 911 if your child remains blue or is not breathing for longer than a minute.

After the breath holding spell:

- Reassure your child that everything is OK and that the spell is not their fault.

Can Breath-Holding Spells Be Prevented?

- Your doctor can work with you on ways to try to limit your child's spells. If your child typically has a breath-holding spell after crying, you can try to prevent your child from getting upset. For example, you can:
- Make sure your child doesn't get too tired or hungry.
- Try to use calm discipline methods.

It's can be hard to watch your child have a spell, but try not to give in to tantrums or unreasonable behavior just to prevent one. Talk to your doctor if you need help finding the best way to discipline your child.

Remind yourself that the breath-holding spells are not harmful and that your child will outgrow them. If you are very worried about the spells, talking to a mental health professional can help you find ways to cope.

CHIEF'S REPORT

all out for this event and Whitney didn't want anyone to be disappointed. The bar was set high but Whitney met the challenge. Ceiling decorations of draped champagne colored netting held hundreds of gold and silver balloons. Tables were festively decorated and the food was cooked to perfection. Dessert of strawberry shortcake complete with pie crust and whipped cream ended our gourmet meal. Brad Smith, son of Lora Dushane Smith and grandson of Nina Dushane who formerly owned the allotment where our BlueJacket Complex is located, presented an excellent program covering the genealogy of the Dushane family. Discussions continue as to whether there was a pink house across the creek or not. Lola Purvis won the prize for coming the greatest distance, Bud Enyart had attended every Elders Dinner, Norman Amos was the oldest male tribal citizen present making him Male Elder of the Year and Chief Wallace was the female Elder of the Year. More than 100 were present for the evening, with 86 of them being tribal elders. It was a great evening. Karen Hamilton, Susan Patterson and Leia Foster, AOA staff along with their Director Whitney Morgan are to be commended for all the work they did as well as the numerous volunteers. And we can't forget Shelly Rogers, Administrative Assistant who always goes above and beyond anything expected of her. It truly was an exceptional evening. Mark your calendars for the last Friday in April of 2024 and we'll do it again!

Brad Smith speaking during the Elder's Dinner about his Grandmother Nina Dushane and the Dushane family.

Dixie Martin, Glenna J. Wallace (Female Elder of the Year) and Charles Enyart.

Then on Friday, May 19, we held our first tribal wide Fun, Food and Fellowship evening. Thanks to Cheryl Barnes, Melva King, Kendra Samples, Shelly Rogers and my daughter Joanie Wallace who was here from South Carolina on a Mother's Day visit for all the cooking and shopping they did. They even drove to Tulsa to buy the meat from the Muscogee Creek Tribe's Processing Plant managed by our tribal member Trenton Kissee. The menu consisted of roast with potatoes, carrots and gravy along with salad greens furnished by our own Bridget Spencer of Growing Thyme, green beans, macaroni and cheese, Beef and Hominy, hot rolls and numerous luscious desserts provided by families attending made for fine eating. We had 59 tribal members and 8 in the band making a total of 67 people who attended. We gathered under the former Bordertown bull pens, now referred to as the Arbor. Maintenance had set up a stage for the band, compliments of Indigo Sky, and set up ample tables and chairs. Everything was perfect, except for the weather. It was cold, cold, due to the rain and gusting winds. Fortunately we had coats, jackets and about fifteen blankets available for use. It was most unusual to see guitar players, singers and other musicians draped in blankets while they performed, which they did with gusto. Everyone visited, laughed and had a great time asking when the next event will be held. That quarterly event should occur sometime early August and Susan Patterson has already said her Brock family will do the cooking then. That announcement may be a surprise to some of the Brock family - Plan on attending. You'll be glad you did.

Linda Zimmerman, Norman Amos (Male Elder of the Year) and Trisha Clifton.

Work continues on several projects here at the tribe. Renovations have been concluded on BlueJacket Building and the Early Childhood Learning Center after both were flooded during Christmas break. Work has started on turning the Elbert House into a Child Care Center for casino employees. It is estimated this will take at least two months. Work also continues on turning the former Travel Center into an office complex with a projected completion date of August. As of now a soft opening of the Splash Pad is scheduled for June 5 but that is subject to certain equipment being delivered for installation prior to that date. Right now that equipment has not arrived so this may need to be rescheduled. Architectural drawings of the Governmental Building on Highway 10C Complex are almost completed with selection of contractors the next step. Construction is projected to take about fifteen months, completion date estimated about September 2024.

By the time you receive this publication, Memorial Day will have passed, June will be upon us with the holiday of Juneteenth and then Independence Day. Enjoy each of these holidays and reflect upon the message each represents. Once again, congratulations to each of our graduates.

REFILLS BY MAIL

As of October 17, 2022, Medication Refills will be available by mail for most chronic medications. We are pleased to offer this service as a way for our patients to save time and money.

New prescriptions will not be mailed. These must be picked-up at the clinic.

How do I get started with Refills by Mail?

1. Enrollment must be made in person at Bearskin Healthcare Pharmacy. A form will be available for each patient to register for refills by mail. Patients under the age of 18, must have a parent/guardian signature.
2. To request refills, call the Automated Refill Line: 918-678-3244. This is the number on your prescription label. If you get a message that says your prescriptions are on "HOLD" or "there are no refills remaining" the Pharmacy will get these messages and process them accordingly. If you are told by the automated system that it is too early to refill your medications, call back 7 days prior to running out of meds.
3. ALWAYS UPDATE your current address and telephone number with Registration AND the Pharmacy. If packages are returned due to incorrect addresses you will be disenrolled from the Refill by Mail program.
4. You may call in to request refills up to 7 days early to allow time for processing and mailing. NOTIFY THE PHARMACY if you have not received your meds within 7 days, otherwise non-notification will be accepted as confirmation of medication delivery.
5. Controlled medications (Tylenol with Codeine, clonazepam, tramadol, Lyrica, butalbital products, diphenoxylate/atropine, testosterone injection/gel, Provigil, and others) will not be eligible for refills by mail.
6. CHECK your mail regularly on the days following your requests to help prevent loss and exposure to the elements. If you have several medications you may receive more than one package. If you repeatedly have medications which come up missing we may disenroll you from the RBM program.
7. PLEASE CONSOLIDATE refill requests as much as possible to help keep postage costs down.

The pharmacy reserves the right to dismiss any patient from the program as necessary. Reasons for dismissal include but are not limited to; returned deliveries, missed or denied receipt of medications, chronic early refill requests, failure to keep scheduled appointments, etc.
